Older Americans Act Title IID

Program Code - 3900100

Description

The Disease Prevention and Health Promotion Program (Title IID) provides evidence-based preventive health and health promotion services. Title IID supports services that assist older adults in preventing illness and managing chronic conditions. Effective July 1, 2016, Title IID programs and activities must have been demonstrated through rigorous evaluation to be evidenced-based or approved as evidence-based by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Title IID evidence-based health promotion programs help older adults learn techniques and strategies to delay and/or manage chronic health conditions and may include activities that improve nutrition, prevent falls, and promote physical fitness and emotional well-being.

Individuals participate in services in a variety of settings including multipurpose senior centers, community centers, congregate nutrition sites, and in their homes.

Benefits

Evidence-based Disease Prevention and Health Promotion services promote healthy aging and maintenance of optimal physical, mental, and social well-being in older adults. An active healthy lifestyle can contribute to an older adult's independence and quality of life.

Eligibility

Income	No requirement.
Age	60 or older.
Other	The Older Americans Act (OAA) emphasizes serving individuals in greatest economic or social need, individuals living in rural areas, those who reside in a medically underserved area of the region, and individuals who have chronic medical conditions that can improve with education and non-medical intervention.
