CA's Master Plan for Aging (MPA)

The Master Plan on Aging:
FIVE BOLD GOALS
FOR 2030

The Master Plan for Aging presents a comprehensive approach for every Californian to help build a California for All Ages by 2030. The Plan identifies five bold goals and twenty-three innovative and flexible strategies for state and local leaders in government, business, philanthropic, and community-based organizations to collaborate. Each of these goals is in alignment with Governor Gavin Newsom's California for All vision.

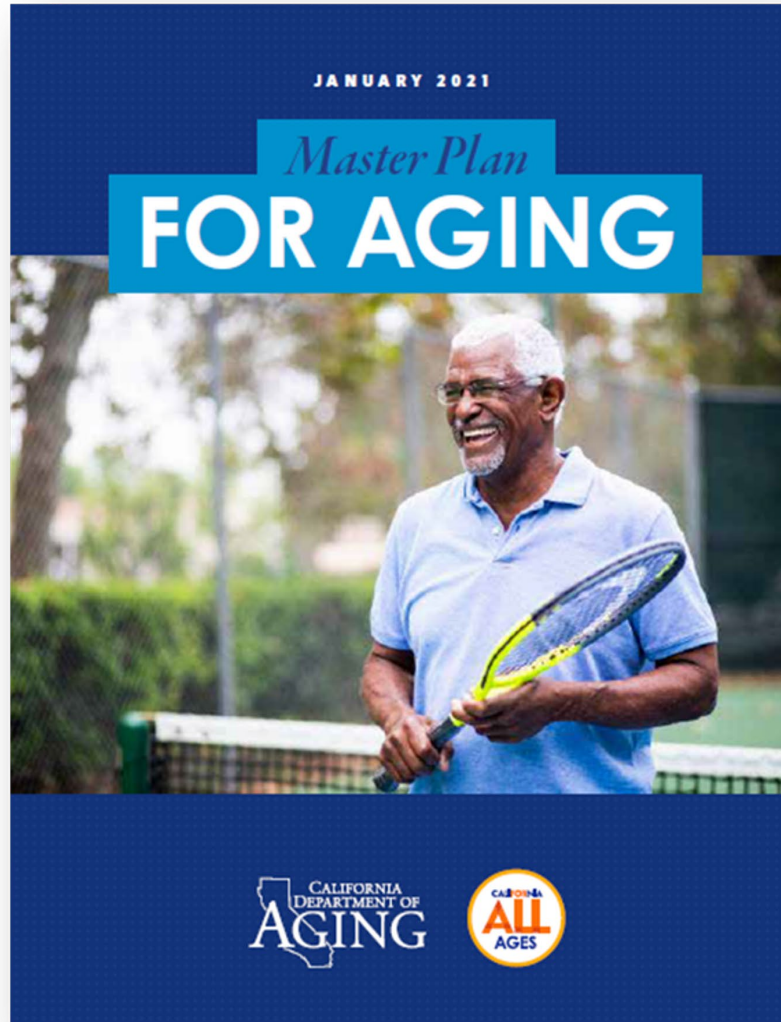

The Master Plan for Aging for 2030 is to be considered a living document for the long term. Just as California pivoted to ensure the safety and well-being of older adults in new and different ways during COVID-19 pandemic, the Master Plan will be nimble and responsive to shifting social and economic realities.

Beginning in 2021, the five bold goals will be powered by over 100 action-ready initiatives in the short term that have already been adopted by state agencies for implementation, in partnership with stakeholders and the Legislature. \(See page 22 for a detailed list of these proposals.\) These initiatives will be continually informed by the publicly accessible, user-friendly, and routinely updated Data Dashboard for Aging, which will track the Master Plan's targets over ten years. Progress, updates, and new initiatives will be addressed in an annual report produced by the Administration.

Master Plan
FOR AGING

CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF AGING

CALIFORNIA
ALL AGES

California for All Ages!
WHY A MASTER PLAN?

Aging is changing and it's changing California. California's over-60 population is projected to diversify and grow faster than any other age group, increasing from 14 percent in 2010 to one quarter of the population by 2030, when there will be 10.8 million older adults in California. Recognizing this, Governor Gavin Newsom issued an executive order in June 2019 calling for the creation of a Master Plan for Aging (Master Plan) \(Executive Order N-14-19\). The Executive Order affirmed the priority of the health and well-being of older Californians and the need for policies that promote healthy aging. It also called for a "blueprint" for state government, local government, the private sector, and philanthropy to prepare the state for the coming demographic changes and continue California's leadership in aging, disability, and equity.

After work began on the Master Plan, the COVID-19 pandemic reached California. The virus disproportionately harmed older and other at-risk adults, and it strained aging and disability services like never before. Older adults have experienced unprecedented death rates – particularly among Latino, Black and Asian Pacific Islander communities and those living in nursing homes. Intensified social isolation and ageism have been especially burdensome. The suffering, resilience, and leadership of older adults, people with disabilities, caregivers, service providers, and advocates during this time have made the Governor's Master Plan for Aging even more urgent.

This is not a plan simply for today's older adults. Instead, the Master Plan is a blueprint for aging across the lifespan. The Master Plan calls on all California communities to build a California for All Ages: for older Californians currently living through the many different stages of the second half of life; for younger generations who can expect to live longer lives than their elders; for communities of all ages – family, friends, neighbors, coworkers, and caregivers – surrounding older adults. As Californians, we can create communities where people of all ages and abilities are engaged, valued, and afforded equitable opportunities to thrive as we age, how and where we choose.

The Master Plan for Aging outlines five bold goals and twenty-three strategies to build a California for All Ages by 2030. It also includes a Data Dashboard for Aging to measure our progress and a Local Playbook to drive partnerships that help us meet these goals together.
